

OBSCURE TREASURES STAKEHOLDER CHALLENGE

Aim

- to engage in an active dialogue between university and GLAM stakeholders
- to create opportunities for real-life learning by doing
- to mobilise the potential of young people (students and young researchers) to solve tasks driven from a particular stakeholder context
- to reach out to the general community

Types of activities

- Getting to know the work of the Stakeholders: Ivan Duychev Slavo-Byzantine Centre, National Library St. St. Cyril and Methodius, NALIS
- Introduction to the Stakeholder Challenge – context, tasks, means of solving the task, expected results
- Hands-on work – individually and in groups
- Sharing and discussions on the results reached by the students
- Announcement of the winners and sharing the results with a wider audience through:
 - An artistic exhibition
 - A collection of digitalised objects of shared heritage across the Alliance countries with metadata available from a stakeholder's website

The Stakeholder Challenge is intertwined with the 2-Strand Workshop for students and young researchers “The Glagolitic Alphabet – The Forgotten Alphabet of Europe”
